

Windana Adult Residential Detox

Wattle Grove is a seven-to-fourteen-day residential withdrawal (detox) program in St Kilda East, offering a safe, comfortable, and fully accessible place for you to stay while withdrawing from alcohol and other drugs.

Most residents have their own room, with shared rooms also available. Our team includes nurses, alcohol and other drug clinicians and other practitioners who bring a personal touch to make you feel at home during your stay. Our program is holistic, evidence-based and tailored to your unique situation.

“A therapeutic withdrawal where you can get the support you need from a program designed to set you free. When I walked through the doors I felt my days of addiction were over.”

- Detox client

What happens in the program?

During your stay, we'll provide:

- A safe, supportive, homelike space to withdraw
- Time to rest and adjust before taking part in activities
- Support from our nurse and local doctor
- Sessions with your Case Worker for support and treatment planning
- Activities that support your wellbeing
- Education groups in harm reduction, relapse prevention and stress management
- Light daily exercise and recreation

Before you leave, we will work with you to set goals for continuing your recovery and help you link in with support services.

Eligibility and referral

Our program is for people 18 years and older who are comfortable sharing facilities and participating in groups and activities. A shared room may be required for medical or wellbeing reasons.

Referrals are via DirectLine, on 1800 888 236, available 24/7.
